

Have a scene available that is out of the Glass Hammer “Dwarf and Orc” song description.

An orc is guarding an orc chieftains ale and such.

For some reason the party, especially and Dwarves are encouraged to want to find this “stash” (if ale is not enough, maybe the (lie?) of some sort of other treasure or clue hidden there (unbeknownst to the guarding orc of course).

When they get there, they find the or has drunk all the alcohol. If there is not a good way to get the dwarf to fight the orc, then maybe the party comes across a dwarf in combat with the orc. The orc is throwing bottles, and kegs, and such at the dwaf, and the dwarf is enraged.
